CUBAN RESOLUTIONS MAY PASS TO-DAY

Conference Report Presented by Chairman Hitt in an Eloquent Speech.

Strong Opposition to Its Consideration by Spanish Sympathizers in the House.

SELLIGERENCY IS NOW IN SIGHT

After Three Weeks of Vexatious Delay the Insurgent Cause Is Now Expected to Be Pushed to a Vote, Despite All Protests.

By Julius Chambers.

Washington, April S .- "I present the conference report on the disagreeing vote on the Cuban resolutions," said Chairman this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Thus, once more these resolutions came into the House

The resolutions would have long ago been sent to the President had it not been for sympathizers in the Senate. The galleries were crowded in anticipation of the Cuban question being reached, but the people had to wait until Pickler, of South Dakota, had passed thirty-eight pension bills. There was a great attendance of members on the Mr. Pickler insisted that pension bills should be considered. Mr. Hitt, in charge of the Cuban resolutions, said he thought he ought to antagonize these private bills if they would entail debate; the question of Cuba should be immediately settled.
"Cuba can wait," testily replied Pickler, ventor's schemes were renewed again yesof Cuba should be immediately settled.
"Cuba can wait," testily replied Pickler,

"until we pass these pension bills."

After some wrangling, Mr. Hitt agreed to withhold his motion if Mr. Pickler would demand the previous question on all bills, thus shutting off all debate. The Democrats thought that pension bills should not be religiously as a storm of the millions of John Jacob Astor and other New York capitalists who have recently taken an interest in the invention. The adjourned meeting was a stormy one, but the committee which has been trying be railroaded through in this manner, and a entered a protest, but it was of no avail.

HITT SPEAKS FOR CUBA. Mr. Hitt said that the two resolution which the Conference Committee had agreed to proposed, first, that the United States should accord to the people of Cuba belligerent rights, and, secondly, for a tender of the friendly offices of the United States to the Spanish Government for the recognition of Cuban independence. The immediate recognition of belligency, he said, was the more important and practical question. That was the point covered by the first resolution both of the Senate and of the House. In mere bulk the pe- that he has something worth patenting titions presented to Congress favoring this course had exceeded those upon any other LANGDON HELD FOR THE JURY.

On the other side, individual members. especially of the committee charged with this subject, had received letters from These letters were almost always from morning. Only persons directly interested These letters were almost always from those who called themselves business membrokers and financial men—who were opposed to any agitation or discussion of a foreign question, and seemed to care very little about either the Cubans or Spaniards, but chiefly about the market.

The unmistakable voice of the people of the United States, as expressed in the enormous majority given in the House, was in favor of recognizing the belligerency of the favor of recognizing the belligerency of the Bro favor of recognizing the belligerency of the Cubans. It was against this that all Spanish influences in this country were most stremuously exerted. It was to this hope of recognition at belligerency that all friends of Cuba turned. The reason was plain. It would be of inestimable assistance to the Cuban cause. It would give them a flag; it would give them a flag; it would give them a status in the world. If they procured a vessel and entered New York, harbor to-morrow with their lone star flag they would be liable to be treated as pirates—the Spanish Minister would immediately the Spanish Minister would immediately Jury. from all countries do. "now onys munitions of war at Hartford and at Philadelphia, buys supplies, loads ships—in fact, the United States is to-day the base of operations in a furious war to crush those who are struggling for liberty, and our Government has been busied for a year in obeying the intimations of the Spanish Minister that they could in this port or in that catch some one trying to carry arms or aid to Cuba. We have not even confined our assistance to our own ports, but in the case of the Hawkins we pursued the Cubans upon the high seas at the behest of Spain."

After an eloquent plea for struggling tubans and the assertion that "it will not be long until we shall have an end of all the bombastic pretensions and abominations of Weyler's savage operations," Mr. Hitt "now onys munitions of war at Hartford were amazed to learn that he had salled
